Staying connected with your batchmates

Networking is a key to create opportunities and to learn. Who are better people than your batchmates to learn and grow with !

Way Forward

As you move forward, we would like you to consider a few things. Kindly read the next few pages carefully.

We wish that you stay focused in your journey, here are couple of ways to do so. Being a credible coach is extremely important as organisations/people trust us for their personal and professional journeys.

In order to create credibility as a coach, it is extremely important to continue doing three things :

- Continue Practice Coaching
- Continue Learning
- Build Personal Brand

Here are a few tips to get started.

ABHYUDAYA

Global Coach Circle

Practicing Coaching

We recommend that you continuously practice and maintain the logs of coaching practice. Logs are a great way to stay focused. A log can be in the form of a simple excel template containing client details like their names, email addresses, phone number and dates of coaching sessions and reason for coaching. We recommend that you seek out their explicit permission to store their information with you as per data privacy policy.

Learning

Keeping a focus on adding perspectives to your thinking and mindset is not only essential but critical for anyone as a coach.

We at Abhyudaya are committed to contribute to the quality of coaching in the world, we invite you to stay focused on your learnings. Our upcoming programs can be viewed here. Program Calendar

We also encourage you to join a professional organisation like ICF to stay updated with Industry research and latest practices. This would support you to confidently position yourself as an executive coach. Join ICF today.

Building a Personal Brand

Building a personal brand is our personal responsibility as it helps in creating trust, assurance and credibility for people/organisations/professionals who want to work with us.

There are several ways in which you can start building your brand by taking baby steps like :

- Writing a blogs, it's a great way to articulate your understanding of topics while building credibility on social platforms
- ICF credentialing, it is a credible way to build a trusting brand
- Providing pro-bono coaching to potential clients
- Contributing to professional bodies and organisations invested in doing similar work
Informing/Educating your network about your education and its significance

We have created a page for alumni of Global Leadership Coach Program Participants where you can stay in touch with each other and post articles/blogs or initiate discussions among yourself about anything relevant. The page will be managed by the Abhyudaya Admin team to keep the communication going with the growing community of GLCP programs in future.
